Early Years News

Many thanks to you all for your patience during my absence this week and thank you to Mrs Wood, Ms Bland and Mrs Askew for ensuring that the Unit continued to run so smoothly.

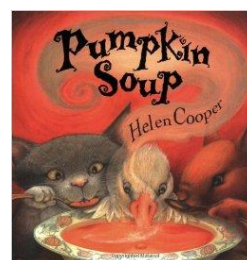

Well done everyone for remembering the Forest clothes on Wednesday - the children really need wrapping up very warmly when the cold weather comes. Can we also remind Ash parents that on 'Dress Down' days the children still need to be sensibly dressed, especially their shoes. When these days are on a Thursday remember that the children have PE and need to be able to change their clothes as easily as possible.

Next week is national Anti-bullying week. We take a positive slant on this and have a Friendship week across the school when we keep our focus on friendship and how important it is to us all.

We will also be opening our Farm Shop and making some delicious vegetable soup.

On Tuesday we have a small theatre company visiting school with a production of The Snow Queen. The children are bound to have a wonderful morning.

If anyone has, or knows someone who has, a broken microwave cooker, we are looking for one for our mud kitchen!

The children have each made a poppy and today we hope to have a moment of silence as we remember.

Enjoy your weekend!
